

Let's Land an Internship: Jumpstarting Your Internship Search with SuccessWorks

Presenter, Matt Delaney, Associate Director of Career Advising and Communities/Career and Internship Specialist

Graduates who had internships are 90 percent more likely to get job offers than graduates who didn't. Often, First Generation students are less likely to have time for internships on top of everything else. This session will walk through the basic tools and strategies for finding an internship, and introduces helpful resources, next steps, and ways SuccessWorks is here to help you land your internship.
